GAME RATTLESNAKE.

"Whenever I hear anybody speak of snakes it makes me think of an exciting experience I had a number of years ago with a big rattlesnake in Arkansas," said an old-timer; "and I want to say that since that time I have had more respect for the rattler than I ever had before. Of course, it is a mere commonplace to speak of the rattlesnake's gameness. They are game, else they would not be so fair. Gameness and fairness go together. I am in a position to say that the rattlesnake is both fair and game. I met the reptile on the side of a hill. He made an effort to get away. I ran upon him before I was aware of his presence in the neighborhood. I was riding. He had just crossed the road, which was on the crown of the hill. The hill sloped down into a ravine which was some 300 yards from the road which the snake had crossed. I crawled out of my saddle and began the fight. I was on the lower side. The snake was making for the ravine. He was about nine feet long, and as fine a specimen of his kind as I ever saw. I attacked him with sticks, poles and every other thing I could get my hands on. He would coil up and throw himself more than his length down the hill toward me. In the meantime he was sounding the danger signal in a way I had never heard it sounded before. You could have heard the hum of his rattles half a mile from where the fight was taking place. Inch by inch he forced me down toward the ravine. I crippled him, but he kept right on, just the same, and though I would get right in his path he would crowd in on me until I was forced to get out of the way in order to escape the danger of his fangs. Not once during all this time did he cease to warn me with his rattles that he was bent on mischief, if he could get close enough to me to use his fangs. Before the battle was ended I was in the ravine, the point toward which the snake was headed from the beginning of the fight. Once in the ravine, victory was an easy matter. I killed him in a short while. But I always felt ashamed of myself for doing it. A thing so game deserved to live. Besides, the snake had not harmed me. Really, it was a piece of brutality that I am heartily ashamed of, and if I had the thing to pass through again I would not pass through it, that's all. At any rate, since that time I have had more respect and more sympathy for snakes, and maybe after all the game old rattler died a martyr to the reptilian cause."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

BROWN FOR SHERIFF NEW ARRIVALS

Your minority Committee on Rules begs leave to report the following: That Section 3 of rule 3 be amended to read "all voting on nominations shall be by precinct announcement, the balance of the report agreed to." W. W. Harris moved its adoption. Judge Hookano moved that the two reports be taken up together. The latter motion prevailed. The chairman then ruled Hookano's motion out of order as the amendments had not been acted upon. A. V. Gear moved that the rules be read section by section. Lorrin Andrews was not in favor of the motion. The delegates were not here to discuss rules, but to nominate county officers. He thought the proper course was to proceed to the main business. His remarks were greeted with applause, but a motion to adopt his suggestion failed. Mr. Achi's amendment to section 7 was then considered. The amendment carried.

Achi moved that the rules as amended be adopted. A. V. Gear's amendment to be called rule 10, was considered and adopted.

W. W. Harris moved the adoption of the minority report. Kaulukou objected. Judge Hookano moved that the report be laid on the table, which was done.

PERMANENT OFFICER CONFUSION.

Under rule 1, C. L. Crabbe nominated A. G. M. Robertson of the Fourth District. Geo. F. Renton nominated Judge Hookano of the Fifth District. Mr. Craig thought the roll call should be the first order of business. Chairman Robertson called Mr. Chillingworth to the chair. The nominations closed. Crabbe moved that a standing vote prevail. Chillingworth found some difficulty in calling for a vote in this manner. The question when put called forth energetic lung expansion.

In favor of the motion for a standing vote, the Fourth District voted almost solidly, with Larnach, a lone voter, assisting in the Fifth. The Fifth rose in objection as one man minus Larnach, and was assisted by several members of the Fourth. The chairman found he could not make a count.

Andrew Adams moved to vote for the permanent officers by ballot. Winston moved to vote by roll call. The latter motion was defeated. Adams's motion prevailed and the convention proceeded to vote by ballot with Messrs. Archer, Crabbe, Andrade and Ashley as tellers.

STUFFED THE BALLOT BOX.

Savidge moved for a roll call before the counting of the ballot which gave sixty-nine votes for the Fourth District and fifty-four for the Fifth District, a total of 123.

A total of 124 votes was cast, one in excess of the number responding to the roll call, the chairman and secretary not having voted. Mr. Kluegel asked for another ballot, alleging that people outside the convention voted. Quinn wanted to start right, and called for a new vote. He knew of two men who had voted who had no right to vote, and he appealed on behalf of the honor of the convention, that a new ballot be cast. It was finally decided to call the roll, and as each name was called, the respondent to come forward to the platform and deposit his vote. This was done by precincts.

THIS NEGRO SAID HE WAS THE WHOLE CHEESE

Early last evening a negro engaged a hack and spent two hours in driving from point to point about the city. About ten o'clock he ordered the cab driver to stop in front of a small grocery store near the Queen and Alakea street corner. The negro took a key from his pocket, unlocked the door of the store, and entered.

A few minutes later he came out with bulging pockets and carrying a well-filled gunny sack. He entered the cab but a policeman suddenly appeared on the scene. The officer of the law wished to know what the colored gentleman was doing in the store. The negro promptly stated that it was none of the officer's business. A wordy warfare between the two followed, resulting in the negro being haled to the police station.

The situation was explained to Clerk Joe McKinnon and then the negro started talking:

"See here mister, I'se the proprietor of dat store. I'se the boss, the main cheese and owner of the whole shebang. I hire white man to run it for me. And I have the right to go into my store any time. I'se the boss. I am the business man of it. Who has a better right. And whose troubles is it if I am drunk?"

It was decided to book the man on a charge of drunkenness.

"Go ahead. If that's your game, all right. I'll see about you."

"What's your name?" asked the Clerk.

"Well you say I'm drunk. If I'm drunk, I'm nobody, see! And nobody of course, can't have no name."

So "Nobody, drunk" was booked without a name. His pockets yielded bags of candy, peanuts, five cents, a key to the store, and miscellaneous articles. The sack taken from the hack contained young onions, potatoes, a pineapple, fish, a bundle of tripe, groceries, tinned sardines, and a great quantity of minor truck usually found in a small store.

"Nobody" was sent below to cool off while the hackman went away minus three dollars that the negro was supposed to owe as fare.

The result of the balloting was as follows, with 121 ballots cast:

A. G. M. Robertson—76.
Judge Hookano—45.

Judge Hookano thanked the convention for their votes and moved the convention to make a unanimous vote for Mr. Robertson. The latter was escorted to the chair by Messrs. Renton and Jim Quinn. Mr. Robertson hoped that harmony would prevail in the deliberations of the convention.

Geo. McClellan moved that Judge Hookano be elected unanimously as vice-chairman, which carried.

Mr. Lane nominated Ben Zablan for the secretaryship, and Mr. Ashley was also proposed. The latter withdrew, and the chair cast a ballot for the convention for Mr. Zablan. Henry Vida was elected assistant secretary.

For treasurer, Achi nominated J. A. Gilman, and he was duly elected.

A. L. C. Atkinson nominated Isaac Cockett for the position of sergeant-at-arms, and he was also duly elected.

PLATFORM OF THE COUNTY.

J. A. Hughes on behalf of the committee on platform read the platform as appears elsewhere.

The platform was adopted unanimously.

Achi moved a recess until 7:30 o'clock tonight. Lorrin Andrews objected. The delegates were present to choose candidates. The quicker they got to work and put the Republican party on record in its choice, the better. (Applause.) Every one had made up his mind as to whom he intended to vote for, and he urged a continuance of the business. Achi's motion was defeated.

COUNTY SHERIFF.

Fred Macfarlane nominated A. M. Brown as Sheriff. James H. Boyd moved the nominations close, which was done. The secretary cast a unanimous ballot for Mr. Brown. Applause greeted the result. Sheriff Brown was called upon for a speech and he thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him.

COUNTY CLERK.

Kaia of the Fifth District nominated Henry C. Vida for County Clerk, on account of his record in the legislature.

Mr. Watkins nominated William Savidge.

Lorrin Andrews put in nomination an active worker in the Republican party since its organization in the Territory—Harry Murray, and he asked the support of the convention in his behalf.

Upon motion of Judge Hookano the nominations closed. The convention then proceeded to ballot, the result being as follows:

First ballot—
Henry Vida 53
Wm. Savidge 28
Harry Murray 39
Scattering 1
Total 121

The chairman announced no election. Wm. Savidge then withdrew from the contest.

The second ballot, with 123 votes cast, resulted as follows:

Harry Murray 63
Henry Vida 60

The chairman announced that Murray received the nomination.

Judge Hookano moved to adjourn to 9 a. m. today, but withdrew the mo-

COUNTY AUDITOR.

Senator Achi nominated Isaac Sherwood for County Auditor.

Mr. Andrade nominated A. J. Campbell.

J. A. Hughes nominated C. M. White, and with this name the nominations closed.

The balloting resulted as follows:

Isaac Sherwood 69
A. J. Campbell 34
C. M. White 20

The chairman announced that Sherwood received the nomination for Auditor.

The convention then adjourned to 7:30 o'clock this evening.

THE EAST HAWAII COUNTY TICKET

HILO, Sept. 15.—Sheriff Andrews won the greatest contest of the series at the East Hawaii Republican County Convention today. He was nominated by a vote of 19 to 12, the entire ticket being as follows:

Sheriff, Lorrin Andrews.
Clerk, Norman K. Lyman.
Auditor, N. C. Willfong.
Treasurer, C. A. Stoble, cashier of the Hilo bank.
Assessor, Geo. H. Williams.
Attorney, Carl Smith.
Surveyor, Thos. Cook.
Supervisors: E. N. Holmes, S. L. Desha, W. H. Lambert, Jos. Viera and W. G. Walker.

A. C. McKenney was chairman of the convention.

Dr. Holland led the Andrews faction and A. B. Loebenstein the opposition. Hot words between the leaders resulted in a rush at each other with clenched fists, but the sergeant-at-arms stopped a fight and the chairman brought the convention back to order.

The Maui Convention.

Senator H. P. Baldwin was chosen as chairman of the Maui Republican County Convention, W. F. Pogue vice-chairman and D. Morton clerk. Nothing was done the first day beyond passing on credentials and holding caucuses. Nominations were deferred until yesterday.

WHAT IS PAIN BALM?

Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and, while adapted to all the ordinary uses of a liniment, has qualities which distinguish it from other remedies of this class. Pain Balm is especially beneficial for rheumatism. Thousands of cases can be cited in which it has effected a cure when the sufferer had previously tried the best medical service without securing relief. Pain Balm is positively guaranteed to give relief in the most severe cases of chronic or acute rheumatism. Pain Balm heals bruises, burns and scalds in less time than any other treatment. It is "antiseptic" that is, it prevents putrefaction and by so doing, generally prevents an unsightly scar remaining after the injury is healed. For lame back, lumbago and neuralgia, Pain Balm has no equal. It has the quality of "getting to the right spot." No sufferer from these distressing affections should defer a trial of this remedy. One application gives relief. Try it. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Wholesale Agents sell it.
